

EAP in the South East

FRIDAY 25TH OCTOBER 2019
13:30-17:00

ORAL FLUENCY IN THE EAP CLASSROOM

Oracy is increasingly important in all university courses, for both native and non-native speakers. An important element of this is oral fluency. Our research demonstrates that pedagogic interventions in the classroom can make a difference to the development of fluency. This workshop will look at pedagogical principles, which derive from our research and other research into task-based language teaching.

This workshop will focus on practical techniques and strategies teachers and materials writers can consider in students' fluency

Workshop leaders:

Professor Parvaneh Tavakoli &
Joan McCormack (Associate Professor)

Half day workshop on oral fluency

Practical teaching techniques

Awareness raising activities

Opportunities for discussion & networking

UNIVERSITY OF READING

Whiteknights, PO Box 218,
Reading, RG6 6AA

Enrolment closes: Friday 18 October (or earlier
according to numbers)

Limited number of participants
(First come first served)

Coffee & Tea Provided in the break