SUMMARY OF ACTIVITIES FROM THE LAST 12 MONTHS

APRIL 2024 – APRIL 2025

May 2024 July 2024 December 2024 March 2025	BALEAP Assessment Roadshows were delivered as follows: • Workshop 1: Integrating ChatGPT for Creating EAP Assessments • Workshop 2: Using ChatGPT to generate tasks for EAP reading and listening assessments. • Workshop 3: Exploring practical strategies for using ChatGPT to enhance grading and feedback • Workshop 4: Integrated Skills Assessment in EAP: Designing Mediation Tasks with Practical Applications In total, the Roadshows attracted over 200 participants and received highly positive feedback (Figures 1 and 2); on average the Roadshows scored 4.66 out of 5.0. Figure 1 Evaluation of participants' satisfaction with the format and content of the BALEAP Assessment Roadshows

	Figure 2 Representative feedback from participants of the BALEAP Assessment Roadshows The seminar was everything I was hoping for. Practical, as well as explanatory about why certain behaviours generate certain outcomes. All very helpful. A good mix of tasks and discussion. The speaker was excellent - informative, helpful, fun, and he organised the session extremely well covering just the right amount of content. The format is great, good balance between practice and theoretical content. Relevant and inclusive. The format is perfect. Well suited for audiences from different backgrounds and understanding. I will also be recommending them to colleagues. Wonderfully useful. A real source of professional development.
February 2025	BALEAP Testing Officer prepared a proposal for a project aimed at revising the BALEAP Guidelines on English Language Tests for University Entry and applied for UKALTA funding to support its implementation.
March 2025	BALEAP Testing Officer and the BALEAP TAFSIG convenors met to discuss the project concerning the BALEAP Guidelines on English Language Tests for University Entry and agreed on a phased approach to its development.

Report submitted by Anna Ziomek (BALEAP Testing Officer)